SAND SPRINGS -- The Pendleton Family Fiddlers will be the featured entertainers at the Third Tuesday on the Triangle outdoor concert series July 15.

The free, public summertime concerts are held at Triangle Park downtown and begin at 7:30 p.m. and end about 9:30 p.m.

The Pendleton family, whose members have won national recognition, include father, Scott; mother, Virginia; sisters, Emma Jane and Marina; and uncle, David McNamee. Emma Jane, 14, won first place and Marina, 13, won second place at the Patsy Montana National Yodeling Championship in Pineville, Mo., in May. Emma Jane is the 2007 Oklahoma junior fiddle champion and 2008 Grand Lake National Fiddle Fest junior champion.

Fest in the mandolin division.

The family has appeared in concert with Lyle Lovett at the Brady Theatre.

Besides the fiddle and mandolin, Emma Jane and Marina also play guitar and sing.

Scott plays the rhythm guitar and Virginia plays backup fiddle and mandolin. McNamee plays the upright bass.

Concert-goers are encouraged to bring folding chairs or blankets and can bring ice chests with soft drinks and food.

The concert series is coordinated by the Sand Springs Area Chamber of Commerce and sponsored by businesses and civic groups.

Before the start of the concert, alumni of Leadership Sand Springs and guests are invited to attend an ice cream social at Sharp Financial, 2 E. Broadway, on the south side of the Triangle, and stay for the concert.

Mary Jones, with the chamber, will be organizing the next leadership class, which is scheduled to start in January, 2009. She encourages anyone interested in the series of classes to attend the ice cream social.

LSS classes are designed to give area residents an overview of different community groups and organizations.

Class members will meet twice-a-month for five months and listen to speakers representing city government, the schools, civic groups, and social service agencies.

For more information about the program, call Jones at 245-3221.
